Just when you thought we'd died or something even worse....
Lots of apologies and even more excuses for the L O N G silence the past few weeks. Things have now crashed into place, and what you now have in your hands is a semi accurate reflection of what's been going on here musically. And before you can say "but wait what about that really great record I sent them last week?" you'll have a completely revised and oh-so-current 'nother one of these communiques in your hands. Till then, I'm off revising my life & music...
